In order to keep captured fish alive, the boat being used has a special hold to be filled with water from the capture location, and bubblers to aerate the water on the way back to dock. However, the hold is small and can only hold 3 big fish, or 10 small fish at a time. (on the boat 1 big fish = 3 small fish)

You have 3 scheduled collection days to capture fish, one in August, one in November, and the final one in February; plan accordingly.
