

Additional Resources

The following is a list of websites containing additional information on the Deepwater Horizon disaster and oil spills in general. Please feel free to post other helpful resources as a comments section on the Oil Spill in the Gulf page. This information will then periodically be added to this list.

Recommended Resources

COSEE Central Gulf of Mexico

<http://cosee-central-gom.org/oilspill.htm>

The Science of The Spill

<http://spillscience.com/>

Gulf of Mexico Alliance - Resources includes links to general resources and curricula

http://www.gulfallianceeducation.org/educatorresources_bytopic.php#OilIndustrySpills

National Environmental Education Week - Resource includes links to general resources and curricula

http://www.eeweek.org/oil_spill

Deepwater Horizon Oil Spill - Data and forecasts

<http://rucool.marine.rutgers.edu/deepwater/>

NOAA (links to many oil spill related activities from homepage)

<http://www.noaa.gov/>

SeaWeb - Comprehensive website with oil spill resources.

<http://www.seaweb.org/news/gulfspillnews.php>

Gulf of Mexico Coastal Observing System - Resources and Observations

<http://gcoos.tamu.edu/products/section/oilspill.html>

National Resources Defense Council - Resources and interactive animation

<http://www.nrdc.org/energy/gulfspill/belowsurface.asp>

Oil Spill Academic Task Force

<http://oilspill.fsu.edu/>

Exxon Valdez Oil Spill - short video (first 2 minutes). Check the setup before showing the class.

<http://www.howstuffworks.com/environmental/green-science/cleaning-oil-spill.htm>

NOAA Ocean Service Education – “How toxic is oil” and “Oil in the Ocean”

<http://oceanservice.noaa.gov/education/stories/oilymess/welcome.html>

<http://oceanservice.noaa.gov/videoarchive.html#>

Alaska Resources Library and Information Service

<http://www.arlis.org/>

